I confirm

Hockey Canada recognizes that concussion awareness is fundamental to concussion prevention, recognition and management.

The incidence of concussions can be mitigated by the proper implementation of prevention strategies. Hockey Canada encourages the use of sound education programs and enforcement of the Playing Rules as tools to prevent concussions.

All players, parents/guardians, coaches, trainers, Safety Personnel, team staff and officials are required to review their respective Pre-Season Concussion Education Sheet prior to participating in their first game of the season. In addition, the full Concussion Policy and Protocol are also available for viewing.

Rowan's Law Acknowledgment

The Ontario Government has enacted Rowan's Law (Concussion Safety), 2018, SO 2018, c.1 as well as the related Ontario Regulation 161/19. This legislation is named in memory of Rowan Stringer, who tragically died in 2013 of Second Impact Syndrome, the result of suffering multiple concussions playing rugby three times in six days. Her death and the results of a subsequent inquest spurred her family to campaign for the creation of a concussion safety law in Ontario. Rowan's Law, the first of its kind in Canada, came in to force on September 9, 2016.

As part of their commitment to safe sport participation, all four "sport organizations" under Hockey Canada's jurisdiction – the Ontario Women's Hockey Association, Hockey Northwestern Ontario, the Ontario Hockey Federation, and Hockey Eastern Ontario – will do the following:

- (i) Ensure that all athletes, parents of athletes under 18, coaches, team trainers, and officials confirm every year that they have reviewed the Government of Ontario's Concussion Awareness Resources;
- (ii) Establish a Concussion Code of Conduct that sets out rules of behaviour to support concussion prevention; and
- (iii) Establish a Removal-from-Sport and Return-to-Sport protocol.

As a result, the Ontario Sanctioned Hockey Concussion Code of Conduct and the appropriate Concussion Awareness Resources must be reviewed before you can register/participate in sanctioned hockey in Ontario. All four "sport organizations" under Hockey Canada's jurisdiction support the intent of Rowan's Law to create awareness of concussions, change the culture surrounding them, and provide safe sport participation.

The Ontario Sanctioned Hockey Concussion Code of Conduct requires you to do the following, as a condition of registration:

- Commit to fair play and respect for all
- Commit to concussion recognition and reporting, including self-reporting of possible concussions and reporting to a designated person when you suspect that another individual may have sustained a concussion
- Commit to supporting the return-to-sport process
- Commit to sharing any pertinent information regarding incidents of a removal from sport with an athlete's school and any other sport organization with which that athlete has registered
- For coaches, commit to providing opportunities before and after each training, practice, and competition to enable athletes to discuss potential issues related to concussions
- Commit to play and/or encourage others to play in a manner which avoids contact to the head, face, or neck, in compliance with Hockey Canada Playing Rule 7.6 (or Rule 7.7 for Junior/Senior hockey)
- Acknowledge that you will be subject to the penalties outlined in Hockey Canada Playing Rule 7.6 (or Rule 7.7, where applicable) if you engage in or encourage prohibited play involving head contact
- Acknowledge that you may be subject to escalating consequences for repeated instances where you engage in or encourage prohibited play involving head contact

You can review the Government of Ontario's Concussion Awareness Resources via these links:

Confirmation of Review

I hereby commit to and/or acknowledge each of the items set out in the Ontario Sanctioned Hockey Concussion Code of Conduct identified above. Further, I confirm that I have reviewed the appropriate Concussion Awareness Resources within the 12 months prior to my registration, and I further confirm that I will operate within their parameters while fulfilling the role for which I am registering.
